PA NEWC OBSERVES

Blackberry season is in. Dick Conti of the Edenburg-Pulaski road picked berries yesterday for jelly it was reported to Pa Newc.

One driver through the Highland Heights section last evening before dark reports that the rain there was nearly a cloudburst when he went through it.

Pa Newc saw a group of small boys at the foot of the Mt. Jackson hill early this morning. They were garbed in overalls, straw hats and with buckets and baskets on their arms. Probably headed for some berry patch they knew.

The railroad bridge over Liberty street, in Mahoningtown, has a sign on it marking the clearance at 13 feet, 2 inches. It was brought to Pa Newc's attention that some one had crossed out the 2 inches, likely to make allowance for the sag of a wooden partition that runs along the edge of the bridge.

Many local airplane enthusiasts must have taken to the "air" in the past few days. More of the smaller type of planes have been noted over the city than for some time. Some church services on Sunday, especially the Sunday evening lawn service on the Diamond were almost drowned out due to the drone of the low flying planes.

Final stages of the curb laying on Route 422 Extension is being reached Pa Newc notes. It was seen constructing the approach to the new roadway at the corner of Butler and East Washington streets.

The clock atop the tower of the First Christian church on the Square proved a little confusing over the week end. The various faces of the clock were revealing different times, with one side five minutes faster than the other.

Downtown shoppers and visitors were craning their necks to watch a couple of workmen treading close to the roof edge of a downtown building at the corner of Mercer and East Washington street. Monday afternoon. The workmen, who were repairing the roof were evidently accustomed to their high job, as they walked about as though on the ground.

Resurfacing and widening work is under way on Route 19, between Mercer and Harlansburg, a total of 3.9 miles being involved, which will not be completed until September, according to the Pennsylvania highway department detour bulletin for

Swift Approval Of O.P.A. Measure Is Being Sought

Congress Action May Send O. P. A. Extension Bill To White House Late Today

BELIEVE TRUMAN WILL SIGN BILL

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Congressional leaders pressed today for swift approval of the OPA extension bill in order that legislation restoring price controls may be sent to the White House by nightfall.

The house was to act first on a conference report embodying compromise legislation continuing full rent controls and limited price controls until June 30, 1947.

House Approval Certain

House approval was conceded. Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., a leading opponent of the compromise legislation, declared that "there are enough votes to pass it." Wolcott refused to sign the conference report on the ground that the bill "will promote confusion because of the way it is written."

Majority Leader Barkley planned to call the legislation up in the senate as soon as the house had acted favorably. Barring extended debate, it was expected that the bill would go on its way to President Truman for his signature before the day was out.

The consensus on Capitol Hill was that the president would sign the bill—and quickly. OPA Administrator

Five Filipinos To Stand Trial As War Criminals

TOKYO, July 23.—(INS)—U. S. Army officials today were preparing to transport five officials of the Japanese puppet Philippine Republic to Manila for trial as war criminals. The move is being made at the request of President Manuel Roxas.

The five who served in the Japanese-sponsored government are: Puppets Premier Jose Laurel; Jorge Vargas, ambassador to Japan; Camilo Osias, minister of education; Benigno Aquino, speaker of the Philippine National Assembly; and Jose Laurel, III, who acted as aide to his premier father.

The group fled to Japan from Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, after American troops took Manila early in 1945.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(INS)—Howard Hughes today was pronounced out of danger and well on the road to recovery from injuries suffered July 7 in the flaming crash of an army experimental photo-reconnaissance plane he was testing alone.

LINE-UP FOR SECOND BOMB TEST

BIKINI, July 23.—(INS)—Following is the "line-up" for the scheduled underwater atomic bomb test:
Time—8:35 a. m. Thursday (1:35 p. m. Wednesday PST) weather permitting.
Target—80 "guinea fleet" ships anchored about 300 yards apart in 180-foot deep Bikini lagoon.
Trigger Man—Marshall Holloway, youthful Cornell University physicist, who will set in motion a complex series of radio impulses which will detonate the bomb.
The Bomb—To be submerged at an undisclosed distance beneath the surface and detonated near the "target" battleship Arkansas.
Ringside Seats—USS Panamint and Appalachian, carrying news and radio men and observers, will be anchored ten miles from blast center—ten miles closer than they got to the overwater atom bomb drops. Brig. Gen. Roger Ramey, commander of army air forces in the area, will be about five miles above blast.
Planes—70 army and navy planes, including seven radio-controlled "grone" ships, will take photographs and record scientific data. Ramey's plane will be about 30 thousand feet over bomb at the precise moment it is detonated.

Huge Crops Of Corn And Wheat Seen In Nation

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Prospects of the largest corn and wheat crops in the nation's history increased today for the easing of restrictions on the domestic use of grain and promised more aid for famine areas of the world.

Government predictions of record-breaking corn and wheat crops this year were made in a crop report issued on conditions existing July 15. The report estimated U. S. wheat production at about one billion, 133 million bushels and corn output at nearly three billion, 438 million bushels.

An agriculture department official, commenting on the optimistic report, said:

"With these two record crops, we will be in a better position to provide grain for overseas use and possibly to be more liberal with the use of grain in this country."

Restrictions on the use of grain now enforced by the government limit production of flour for domestic consumption, curtail the feeding of grain to cattle, limit the size of the bread loaf, and prohibit the use of wheat in alcoholic beverages.

The agriculture spokesman explained that since July 15 the United States in providing grain for famine relief has been operating without commitments except for a few shipments to Great Britain. He added:

"We are clearing grain ships daily"

Political Exiles Plan To Return To Bolivia Now

New Government Is Being Established Following Revolutionary Success

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 23.—(INS)—Bolivia prepared to welcome returning political exiles today as the revolution-born provisional government consolidated its hold on the nation.

The liberal regime established by leaders of the rebels who slew President Gualberto Villarroel has already set government machinery in motion by naming Dr. Tomas Gutierrez, now head of the supreme court, as chief of state.

Gutierrez is expected to assume the presidency when he recovers from a current illness.

Exile To Return

First of the homecoming political exiles—Jose Antonio Arce, leader of the leftist revolutionary party—is expected to fly into La Paz from Chile today.

Reports from Buenos Aires said revolutionaries and police are fighting in Oruro.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—(INS)—Defense counsel for William Heirens, 17-year-old college boy suspect in three murders and more than 30 burglaries, planned to spend all of today questioning the youth in preparation for indictments they expect the state will seek.

State's Attorney William Tuohy has announced that he would ask the Cook county grand jury to return first degree murder indictments against Heirens for the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan, 6, and the "lipstick" murder of Frances Brown, 33, an ex-Wave.

The University of Chicago youth is being held in the Cook county jail under $200,000 bonds on 29 indictments charging burglary and assaults with intent to kill.

Renew Hunt For Missing Girl

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 23.—(INS)—A nationwide hunt for 15-year-old Joan Turner, of Methuen, was renewed today following the slaying of Phillip Joseph Cronin, 45, of Lawrence, paroled convict, and a fellow bank robber, in a gun duel with sheriffs at Osceola, Mo.

Police said the girl, a high school student, vanished in an elopement with Cronin in 1945.

Essex County District Attorney Hugh A. Gregg sought information from Missouri authorities in the hope that the missing school girl was traveling with the ex-convict. Cronin was paroled in 1943.

Official Hopes For Success Of Conference Are Reported As Optimistic

Ohio Legislature Wants U. S. Action On Rent Control

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—(INS)—Ohio's legislature meeting in special session to consider state rent control, marked time today until Thursday pending action by the federal government.

The session convened last night but was immediately recessed. If federal rent controls are not enacted the Ohio solons will consider three bills introduced at the opening session.

One, sponsored by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, would allow a maximum 10 per cent increase. Another would permit a 15 per cent increase while the third would freeze rents at their OPA levels.

The mayor, dressed in stiff clothes, helped to load two trucks with refuse stacked outside downtown restaurants. CIO-United Public Workers of America pickets stood around and watched the mayor, but no attempt was made to interfere with his labors.

Anthony Vetroni, union international representative, charged the mayor with being a "strikebreaker."

This is the second strike within two months by city workers in their attempt to force the city to grant a 10½-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The Earl's name has topped all others in romantic rumors concerning Princess Elizabeth.

Seventy Aircraft To Take Part In Photographing A-Bomb Test

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

KWAJALEIN, July 23.—Seventy army and navy aircraft were prepared today to take part in the photographic phase of Thursday's underwater atomic bomb test.

The number of planes for test bakers indicated the emphasis on assemblage of scientific facts by means of aerial photography.

With the aim of providing maximum photographic coverage, nearly 20 specially equipped Skywakers, converted Superfortresses and navy flying boats were assigned to the test.

One modified Superfort will be piloted by Brig. Gen. Roger Ramey, commander of army air forces in the Bikini area.

Ramey's plane is scheduled to be at an altitude of 30,000 feet directly over the atom bomb at the time of the explosion. It is expected—cloud conditions permitting—that a picture without dramatic parallel will be taken from Ramey's plane when great masses of water start their hurtling climb after the detonation.

More than 100 high-speed, highly technical cameras will be focused from aloft on the target area at the time of the detonation.

A radio-controlled Flying Fortress which will be at low altitude and presumably immediately over the explosion will also have photographic equipment aboard and should it survive the terrible initial shock, will have a dramatic closeup of the first underwater atom blast.

Survival of the "drone" plane is not considered impossible but is regarded as unlikely by army officers.

Relax Precautions

Relaxing of some of the rigid precautions enforced in the July 1 overhead test means that manned special reconnaissance planes will be only five miles from the explosion while most photographic aircraft will be seven miles away.

General Ramey will be accompanied in his plane by Col. Paul Cullen, chief of photography for the operation. Brig. Gen. Thomas Por, Washington, D. C., will serve as joint task force coordinator aloft.

Pilots of photographic planes include First Lieutenants Earl Lilley, Uniontown, Pa., and Harry Davis, Clearfield, Pa.

Water May Shoot Up Three Miles In A-Bomb Test

By JAMES I. KILGALLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, Bikini, July 23.—Scientists estimated today that the sub-surface atomic bomb blast in Bikini lagoon Thursday (Wednesday, U. S. time) will cause a column of water to shoot two or three miles skyward.

The scientists were reluctant to conjecture on the number of vessels from the 80-ships target fleet which would be sunk or to say whether or not the ships would be hurled out of the water by the terrific blast.

In discussions with newsmen aboard the press ship Appalachian, the experts emphasized that no one knows for sure just what will happen when the bomb bursts and that many predictions at this stage are merely guesses.

Price War In Los Angeles Drops Prices

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(INS)—A "price war" broke out among Los Angeles area markets today, tumbling butter to as low as 69 cents a pound, bread to 5 cents a loaf and some cuts of meat to 5 cents below the final OPA ceiling.

Market owners blamed the "war" to return of abundant supplies and the food industry's own efforts to maintain prices at "reasonable" levels.

Philip R. Melnick, secretary of the Meat Dealers' association, said:

"We have constantly asked housewives to buy only the cheaper and more common cuts of meat."

"They have listened to us. Therefore, to move their growing stocks, retailers are knocking down their prices."

"We expect a break this week in prices on the livestock market that will tumble retail prices still more."

CANTON, O., July 23.—(INS)—Canton's Mayor Carl F. Klein had turned garbage collector today in an effort to rid the city of refuse piled up for two weeks by a strike of municipal workers.

The mayor, dressed in stiff clothes, helped to load two trucks with refuse stacked outside downtown restaurants. CIO-United Public Workers of America pickets stood around and watched the mayor, but no attempt was made to interfere with his labors.

Huge Manhunt Now Under Way In Jerusalem

Toll Of Hotel Bombing Has Mounted To At Least 147 Casualties

VAST SEARCH ON FOR DYNAMITERS

JERUSALEM, July 23.—(INS)—Battle-garbed British troops corralled all male inhabitants of Jerusalem's Montefiore quarter for questioning today in connection with the King David Hotel bombing which resulted in at least 147 casualties.

As the soldiers pressed the greatest manhunt in the history of the middle east, officials said additional victims were being removed from the ruins of the hotel shattered yesterday by two tremendous blasts attributed to Jewish extremists.

At Least 94 Dead or Missing

At least 94 persons, including high-ranking British officials, were feared to have been killed. Of these 42 were definitely accounted for and 52 still were sought. An additional 53 were injured.

Wife-Seeking By Mail Results In Federal Action

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 23.—(INS)—The wife-seeking activities of Arthur Blumstengel, 44, Grantsburg, Wis., farmer, were checked today by the federal law forbidding dispatch of obscene material in the mails.

A Maryland woman, one of more than 2,000 who have written the twice married and twice divorced farmer who sought a wife by mail order, told authorities the letter she received in reply to her bid was "of an indecent character."

A warrant for Blumstengel's arrest was sworn out yesterday before A. J. Sutherland, U. S. commissioner at Eau Claire, Wis., on a complaint by postal authorities.

The farmer waived examination and was bound over to fall term of federal court under a $500 bond.

Blumstengel received national notoriety in 1945, when he wrote Rep. Alvin O. Kosski of Mercer, Wis., for help in finding a wife, "the hardest job I've ever tackled."

France-Britain Agree On Treaty Publicity Plan

Russia Has Not As Yet Responded
To Proposal Of United States
In Matter

PARIS, July 23.—(INS)—French foreign office circles said today that France and Britain have agreed to an American proposal to publish texts of the proposed treaty drafts now but that Russia has not responded as yet.

This spokesman added that the Soviet "may not reply before the (peace) conference meets" next Monday, indicating Russia may use this tactic as a means of avoiding a pointblank refusal to the suggestion of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

The American recommendation for immediate publication of the treaty drafts for Italy, Finland and the three Balkan satellites of the Axis was made after a New York newspaper published what were said to be authentic details of the pacts.

Flood Threatens Philadelphia Area

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—(INS)—The Philadelphia area was gripped today with the ominous threat that its waterways—swollen by four days of rain—would overflow their banks.

Danger signals were sounded this morning along the Perkiomen Creek, from Coatesville, North, where the water was rising rapidly, causing peril to vacationists who have cottages on the shorelines.

Precautionary measures were also taken by residents near the banks of other creeks in the area which were approaching flood stages.

The weather bureau, meanwhile, gave no indication of any letup in the rain. The forecast was for continued rain today and tomorrow.

He pointed out that continuance of grain shipments to famine areas has been urged by such relief authorities as UNRRA Director Florio LaGuardia, Famine Emergency Committee Chairman Chester Davis and Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald, agriculture department official.

Crop Estimates
In estimating a record wheat crop, the agriculture department placed the 1946 winter wheat yield at about 865 million bushels and the spring wheat output at more than 266 million bushels.

Ideal weather conditions throughout the corn and wheat producing areas largely were credited with the improved crop outlook.

If present forecasts are accurate, the U. S. grain crop will far exceed previous yields. The largest corn crop to date was the 1944 output of three billion, 288 million bushels. The largest previous wheat crop—one billion, 123 million bushels—was produced last year.

The 1946 wheat crop will be the fourth billion bushel one in the country's history, and the corn crop will be the seventh U. S. corn yield of more than three billion bushels.

day. He and an Arab policeman were still breathing when taken from beneath a pile of debris; both were hospitalized.

With some British officers indicating that martial law was a distinct possibility, the search for the Extremists who dynamited the military headquarters assumed the proportions of a vast military operation. Police and troops went into the Montefiore district, a huge slum area behind the ill-starred hotel. They removed all men and boys for identification.

City Is Nervous
During the search, the bullet-shattered body of a dead Jew was found inside the ancient walled city.

The entire city was jumpy and nervous. Attesting to this was the distinct shock which ran through the populace when "terror" sirens wailed suddenly this morning.

All traffic halted abruptly, but the signal soon proved to be but a technical hitch.

Troops in armored cars and fast bren gun carriers are scouring Jerusalem for perpetrators of the twin bomb explosions that were condemned by officials of the Jewish agency as "dastardly crimes."

Other soldiers are stationed on rooftops at major street intersections and behind barricades.

Dead and wounded include Arab and Jewish leaders as well as perhaps 14 senior British officials.

Strictest curfew ever imposed in Jerusalem was clamped down shortly after the explosions were attributed by authorities to Jewish Extremists.

Hundreds of Jews, including Zionist leaders, were arrested and questioned. Among them were two Jewish youths and a girl suspected of participating in the attack.

Insane Terrorism

LONDON, July 23.—(INS)—British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, commenting on the dynamiting of British military headquarters in Jerusalem, branded the act today as "an insane act of terrorism."

Attlee told Commons Britain was horrified at the "brutal, murderous crime committed yesterday." He added that "of all the outrages in Palestine—may be horrible in the last two months—this is the worst."

Latest figures, he continued, showed that there were 41 dead, and 52 missing. Fifty-three others were injured.

The prime minister said that on the basis of all available information, the two terrific explosions which shattered the luxurious King David Hotel were set off by Jewish Extremists.

SWIFT APPROVAL OF O.P.A. MEASURE IS BEING SOUGHT

Porter said he informed the president that the new bill is better in many important respects than the OPA extension measure Mr. Truman previously vetoed.

Effective When Signed
The bill will become effective as soon as signed by the president.

Rent and price controls, with the exception of those on certain exempted commodities, will be restored to their status of June 30, when the old price law expired.

Porter will have 30 days under the bill to revise ceilings, mostly upward, on manufactured articles. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will have a similar period in which to issue new price ceilings on food.

The bill provides that price ceilings will remain off the following commodities until Aug. 21 when they will be restored automatically unless an independent three-member price control board rules that they shall remain off livestock, meat, milk, butter, grains and cottonseed and soybean products. In addition, price ceilings will remain off entirely, unless the board restores them, and in no case before Aug. 1: poultry, eggs, tobacco and petroleum and their products. Rent ceilings would be restored to their June 30 status without change.

Meanwhile, the White House released a report by the bureau of labor statistics which stated that the prices of 28 basic commodities have risen 25 per cent during the first 16 days of July without OPA.

MAY IS FACING QUESTIONING ON ANOTHER ISSUE

cently from a former Mead committee investigator, Harold Robinson, that May intervened when the senate committee tried to subpoena a witness several years ago for its own investigation of the Hawaiian "scandal."

Involved in the inquiry were the activities of Col. Theodore F. Wyman, Jr., army chief engineer in Hawaii, and his relations with Hans Wilhelm Dohl, an alien, German contractor.

Urge Reinvestigation
May's military investigating committee it was stated objected to the then Truman committee's subpoena on the ground that the witness in question was under house subpoena.

Brewster said the effect of May's action was to cause the senators to drop their inquiry at the time May's committee investigated Wyman and later issued a report.

The Pearl Harbor committee, however, recommended last week that congress re-investigate the Wyman case.

Sen. Magnuson (D, Wash.) took the senate floor yesterday and urged that the Mead committee look into the "scandalous" activities of Col. Wyman.

May announced that he could not appear as a witness today, as subpoenaed because of press of legislative business. Still contending that he should be permitted to cross-examine witnesses, the Kentucky Democrat indicated, however, that he would testify at a later date.

MAN SOUGHT IN DOUBLE SLAYING HELD BY POLICE

her escort, John R. Hoffman, 27, was mortally wounded with a bullet which tore through his body near his heart.

The two had been seated in a parked automobile near Norristown, when they were shot. Hoffman died on an operating table a few hours after the shooting, but before he succumbed, he was quoted by police as gasping:

"Ken did it—he's Helen's husband."

Police said Hanley was in no condition to speak this morning following his arrest. His only coherent words, they said, were to the effect that he had had a "fight with Skip," the nick-name he used for his wife.

Police took him to Montgomery county hospital, where he was placed under observation with a guard. They said they were at a loss as to how Hanley received a gunshot wound in his upper left leg.

other man was Phillip Joseph Cronin, who carried a draft card issued at Essex, Mass.

C. E. Simms, cashier of the Humansville bank, identified them as the bandits.

Simms said the men fled northward after holding the bank employee at bay and scooping up all available cash.

Sheriff Terry said he and Kincaid surprised the bandits as they were changing license plates on their automobile two miles south of Ocala.

Terry said the men pulled guns and fired almost point-blank at the officers, when told they were under arrest.

The sheriff and his deputy returned the fire and both men dropped with fatal wounds.

The bandits' car, believed to have been stolen, bore Connecticut license plates.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS
CHILDSArmy Commissions
May Be Probe Target

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Information in the possession of the Mead investigating committee is likely to lead the current inquiry in a new direction which will develop a phase of the congressional influence business with even more unpleasant implications than that already aired.

This concerns the use of influence on Capitol Hill to get commissions in the Army for relatives and friends of contractors with fat war contracts. Mead committee investigations have been told that this was a kind of sideline of the Garson empire.

Rumors Current

There have long been rumors about the generous way in which commissions were tossed out by the War department to the "right people." A thorough investigation should develop facts that might help in another war to prevent the wholesale creation of majors and colonels who did not deserve such commissions and who contributed nothing, or less than nothing to the war effort.

It is significant, in this connection, that Representative Andrew Jackson May was always so willing as chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, to do the bidding of the generals. When the Senate atomic control bill first came to his committee, May started the move that resulted finally in the debate on the House floor when isolationist Republicans, with the aid of Democrats such as Representative Rankin of Mississippi, tried to cut it to pieces. And they succeeded in undoing much of the patient work of the Senate atomic committee, which may or may not be rectified when members of the two houses meet in conference this week.

Hear Crackle Of Politics

As the hearing wears on in the marble and crystal splendor of the caucus room in the Senate office building, you can fairly hear the crackle of politics, like static in the background. For several weeks before the investigation began, most congressmen knew through the channels of gossip what was likely to be disclosed.

Republicans were elated. They saw in this wartime scandal, and others still in the rumor stage, first-class campaign ammunition. Nor were they eager to press at this time for a public investigation.

Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, a member of the Mead committee, made his reputation as a prosecutor. He had a very complete dossier on the Garson-May story before a word of testimony was taken. Ferguson has played closely with certain generals and with Republicans in high civilian offices in the War department. His knowledge is extensive.

Even if Chairman James M. Mead had wanted to postpone the current inquiry until after the elections this fall, he would have had no choice. To have waited would have given the opposition a chance to cripple out the information during the campaign this fall. That would have been more telling in its political effect than the present frank facing up to sordid facts.

Mead As Candidate

If Mead runs for governor of New York in the fall against Thomas E. Dewey, as now seems likely, he will have a tough race on his hands. But he will be stronger as a fearless investigator who did not hesitate to press charges that hit a member of his own party.

The way the story is being played in newspapers opposed to the Truman administration pretty obviously is shocking that we, as taxpayers, should have to foot the bill for the lavish parties given by the Garsons to flatter themselves and the generals and congressmen foolish enough to attend those parties.

But the cost of those parties was merely a postage stamp in comparison with the money spent by the kind of respectable firms on the same kind of entertainment. Ordinarily tax deductible under our income tax law. Until the war shipping administration belatedly put a stop to it, the big shipbuilding companies gave lush parties at every ship launching. Diamond bracelets were presented, at government expense, to the ladies who launched and sponsored the ships while their influential husbands looked on approvingly.

Final Impact Uncertain

What the final impact will be on May's own career is difficult to say. Reports from his district indicate that the unhappy parochialism of the isolated and impoverished areas of the South may work in his aid.

This sets up a defense reaction against the person attacked by "outsiders" and "foreigners." It is apparently what happened in the Georgia election where, thanks to the county unit rule, Gene Talmadge could exploit the carpetbag theme while, at the same time, big chunks of money from the North were being secretly sent into the state to insure Talmadge's election.

On the other hand, the people of May's district are old-fashioned, God-fearing folk who will not appreciate photographs of "Andy" in the midst of high jinks in New York. In the 1944 election he squeaked through with only a handful of votes. It would be an ironic commentary on our politics if May could exploit the persecution angle in such a way as to return with a larger majority in November.

The ideal congressman these days is a man who votes with the party, stands well with the pressure groups and who never has had his wires tapped.

I hear that when the phone rings in some congressman's office now they lie the received and say "No Spik English... goodbye please."

Republicans are inclined to smile for the first time since Teapot Dome... then they remember the bee hive they kicked up in OPA and they are not inclined to smile.

But there are bigger things to worry about... a metals expert says uranium may become the world's next money standard.

Now that we've got most of the world's gold buried at Fort Knox we may be left in the position of the dog who remembers where he buried the bone but suddenly learn there is no meat on it.

Well it wouldn't be the first time somebody got all the marbles, ended the game and then found that the kids had moved down the street and were playing baseball.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Somebody just sent me a copy of a new magazine entitled "Opportunities on Parade," published on the Pacific coast. According to the announcement it throws success right into your lap for only $3 a year.

One of the opportunities, for instance, is to finance a new food "mixture" from copper, calcium and minerals. Iron, copper, calcium and minerals. Iron, copper, calcium and minerals. Iron, copper, calcium and minerals.

Another "opportunity" is to act as a sales agent for a patented "peek-a-boo face suit for men." According to the drawing submitted "the face goes up the outside of the trouser legs down the sleeves and across the back of the coat."

In case of draft, the wearer can close the openings with flaps.

You can also sell, if you want to make a lot of money, a new "feather picker for fowls," or you can find true happiness through introductions by mail by just addressing a certain advertiser who claims "thousands made happy."

I predict that the magazine will be doing well because it caters to that mysterious desire of millions of people who believe that there is a shortcut to success and that you can become rich by some easy formula.

During my newspaper days I have interviewed hundreds of successful men and women.

I have tried my darndest to get that success formula, but so far it is still at the end of the rainbow.

Everyone I have asked has given me the same old trite, but apparently true formula for success:

"Work, think, save." "I myself have tried about every 'easy way' I know."

From Me To You

We have no rain... then we have rain... what happens next... it gets nice and warm and the farmers wait until the grain already out in the fields dries out. If anyone thinks that a farmer has a soft spot on this old world, then he should go out and live with one that is a really up and coming farmer.

Here in Lawrence County we are very fortunate in having a good productive farming area. As you travel about the country there is definite evidence that our crops are second to none... yes, here and there you find some places that are not too good... but that is because the ones who have worked the land have not treated the good earth correctly.

Soil is just like about everything else in life... you must do right. Mother nature does a good share in keeping the land fertile but it's up to the farmer who works the land to see that the old gods have half a chance. Taking without giving soon ruins the soil for good production... you can't work a horse and obtain the maximum amount of power if you don't feed that horse... so it goes with your own body.

If you don't eat properly you don't feel right and therefore you can't do your greatest good.

It's surprising what the human body can take... millions of chaps found that out while serving this great nation in time of war. Those who stayed at home and produced the material to carry on the operations that were carried on found out that some things they thought they needed they could work just as well and in some cases better without 'em.

Conservation is a great thing... and we don't mean conservation in the term that the Lawrence County Sportsman Association stands for entirely... Conservation is a broad term and should be practiced in every home... and it ties in with the habit of saving. Every boy and girl should be taught the advantages of being thrifty. There is nothing in the world so satisfying as to know that there is always a little left over for a rainy day... and this doesn't necessarily mean cash in the bank or under your pillow... Saving our FREEDOMS is mighty important. Some won't agree... and they won't see any meaning in talk until after FREEDOM is lost entirely... woe is the day that it never comes.

AND VERMONT ALSO

Nine States had now ratified the Constitution and it went into effect among them, but the support of Virginia and New York of so much importance that their decisions were awaited with uneasiness.

Washington and Madison were delegates to the Convention—the two strong men of the Constitution. Nevertheless, there were those of other names of almost equal importance. Patrick Henry and George Mason did not like the document. George Mason, while a delegate to the Convention did not sign the Constitution. They, like the men of Massachusetts, wanted some amendments; they wanted a Bill of Rights incorporated. But the action of New Hampshire had its effect for only four days after New Hampshire had ratified, Virginia voted June 26th, 89 to 79, the delegates hoping that their recommendation supporting the action of Massachusetts would have the proper weight.

The Convention in New York was called for the 17th of June and the majority of the delegates were anti-Federalists. To Alexander Hamilton developed the task of winning over the delegates to the Federalist side. It will be remembered that Hamilton's conference in the Constitutional Convention deserted him—left him alone without a vote in the Convention. Hamilton's victory in the New York Convention was magnificent, for New York ratified on July 26th by voting 30 to 27. It was to his publication, assisted by Madison and Jay, of Essays in the Independent Gazetteer of New York, printed over the signature of "Publius," sometimes as many as three or four in a week.

There were eighty-five numbers altogether which were ever since been known as "The Federalist." Of these, approximately fifty were written by Hamilton; Madison wrote about thirty and Jay five. The Essays were widely copied and formed for us the most important commentary on the Constitution.

Hamilton's essays were America's greatest books. The news which came by express riders from New Hampshire and then from Virginia were probably also deciding factors for New York could not afford to remain out of the Union if it was to embrace States on either side. Even at this early date the feeling of antagonism between the Northern States and the Southern States was felt. The delegates of New York also ratified, recommending future amendments.

North Carolina was still reluctant to join the new eleven States. While the convention met on July 26th, 1788, it adjourned without making a decision. A second convention was called a year later, in September of 1789. Congress was now acting under the new Constitution and it brought pressure to bear on both North Carolina and Rhode Island to force them to "come in out of the wet." Congress passed a revenue act, levying duties on imported goods which were made specifically to apply to imports from Rhode Island and North Carolina, consisting of goods emanating from those two States as being "foreign" goods. That was enough for North Carolina and on November 21st, 1789 the second convention ratified the Constitution.

The little State of Rhode Island still held out. This State did not send any delegate to the Constitutional Convention, did not sign the Constitution and would not have anything to do with it. But a Convention was finally called to meet in March of 1890. Nothing was done. It adjourned until May. Congress proceeded to take up the matter. They entertained a bill which authorized the President to suspend all commercial intercourse with Rhode Island and to demand that that State the payment of its share of the Federal debt. The bill passed the Senate but was opposed by the State and in mid-July the Convention on the 30th of July, 1890.

An odd thing happened: After the victory of Fort Mifflin, a convention of delegates was called at Westminster, Vermont in January of 1777 and Vermont was there declared an Independent State and the name of New Connecticut was adopted. In the following June the name was changed to Vermont, naming the home of the Green Mountain Boys who took part in the conflict of the Revolution, the one notable battle being that at Bennington on August 16th, 1777. The Bennington Monument, the taller battle monument in the world (302 feet) commemorates the battle which was the turning point of the American Revolution. And on the State existed as a Republic for fourteen years until its difficulties in regard to boundaries and sovereignty were solved. The State was admitted to the Union March 4th, 1791. Vermont thus became the fourteenth State of the Union the first State to be admitted to the company of the original thirteen.

It is interesting to read some of the objections to the adoption of the Constitution. One man declared: "Among other deformities, the Constitution has an awful scumtiness. It squints toward Monarchy; your President may easily become a King. If your American ship be a man of ambition and ability how easy it is for him to render himself absolute. We shall have a King. The army will salute him Monarch."

Another gentleman wrote to Jefferson in April of 1788: "You will be surprised when I tell you that our people New England have announced General Washington to be a Fool influenced by the 'Slave Dr. Franklin' who is a sub-defiler of Millions of Dollars."

Defender of Millions of Dollars! Mr. Morris has defeated the public out of as many Millions as our people & that they are to cover their frauds by this new Government.

In the autumn of 1788 the Congress of the old Confederation proposed a device act by which the Presidential electors should be chosen by the people.

Uncle Sam Frowns On Role As Labor Arbiter
Government Is Trying To Quit Seizing Plants
Telephone Recordings Surprise Congress

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Labor department insiders say the government will make a determined effort in the months ahead to step out of its war-time role as the ultimate arbiter of labor disputes.

The administration wants to make a clean sweep of having to seize struck industries and then negotiate a settlement with the workers involved.

The objective is to return collective bargaining and negotiation of settlements to the parties themselves.

One sign of this trend is the government's handling of the Allis-Chalmers strike. Although the CIO demanded that the dispute be brought to Washington, the government has kept hands off, refusing to seize the plants.

This procedure wouldn't work, however, in the recent big strikes in coal, steel and railroads. In such instances, long stalemates between labor and management would have wrecked the national economy.

Government officials admit that the program of reviving grassroots bargaining and turning back labor disputes to the parties faces considerable difficulties. The major obstacle is the war-born trend toward national bargaining—the skimming of wage contracts for whole industries on a national scale.

The somewhat unexpected defeat of Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.) by Governor Thye in the Minnesota primaries presents ex-GOP Harold Stassen with a handful of votes as far as the 1948 GOP presidential nomination is concerned.

Had Thye lost the Senate nomination, tantamount to election in Minnesota, Stassen would have been through as a presidential potentiality.

However, the former governor, who resigned to serve as an officer in the Pacific fleet during the war, is in good running position because of the primaries.

Political observers regard the race as possibly narrowing down to a contest between New York Governor Dewey and Stassen. The situation may change radically within the next two years—but if the Republican convention were to be held now, that is the way they would view it.

There is some chance, observers say, that a Dewey-Stassen ticket might emerge two years hence—with the Minnesota named as the New Yorker's running mate.

However, politicians think it unlikely that Stassen would be willing to accept second place on the ticket. Incidentally, the triumph of Stassen's candidate in Minnesota is somewhat at variance with the conservative party trend inaugurated by the new GOP national chairman, Carroll Reece.

Members of Congress were literally flabbergasted to learn that the War department recorded their telephone conversations.

The revelation at the Senate Meade Committee's hearings into the profits of war contractors left members of both Houses amazed and indignant.

One prominent House member said he would have something to say about the practice "at the appropriate time."

This member, close to the White House, commented that the next time a government official "down-town" wanted to talk to him, he'd have to make a personal call to the Capitol.

Members of Congress were wondering whether the practice was confined entirely to the War department. Interesting repercussions were anticipated in the near future.

Then in matters of the child's learning good toilet habits, emotions are big factor, the biggest perhaps. He cooperates at the toilet best when he feels best. Indeed, his whole physical organism cooperates best then. Here I should like to urge parents who are worried over constipation in the young child not only to seek advice from their physician but also to cooperate with him by inducing more calmness and at-easiness in the youngster, through greatly serene in themselves, especially at the strategic moments.

In such ailments, emotions of the child are large factors, and especially in asthma since any emotional disturbance affects the breathing. Our two boys each had some asthma in their early years, which they have outgrown.

But all the foregoing suggestions put a big responsibility on us parents which we cannot shift to others. They require constant, vigorous effort at self-discipline and that is hard work as asthma, related to this article are my two bulletins, "The Nervous Child," and "The Nervous, Jittery Mother," to be had in a stamped envelope by writing to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. EFFECT OF EMOTIONS ON
BODILY HEALTH

I'm not a medical doctor, though I often wish I were. Our children were brought up with the aid of the best-trained medical authorities we could secure and afford. Always in this column I try to prevail on parents to cooperate wisely with the physician.

You and I know very well that the degree to which we manage our emotions helps determine our own state of health and that of our children. There are many areas in which the best medical advice we can obtain falls short of desired results because of somebody's "nerves."

Contagious Ill
You see, "nervousness" is contagious, even more surely than measles and other communicable diseases. Besides, the infection may require no incubation period. Its virus may operate instantaneously. Medical science recognizes the good influence of peace of mind and state of health and that of our children. There are many areas in which the best medical advice we can obtain falls short of desired results because of somebody's "nerves."

Concretely, these principles apply to one's sleep, elimination functions, digestion, and general nutrition. To a similar degree, they apply to our children. Some fat persons not only may be good-natured and serene because they are fat but their fatness may be furthered by their serenity and good-naturedness.

In attempting to bring up the weight of the mal-nourished child, we need to induce more repose in him as well as a better appetite and better selection of his diet. It's amazing how many parents of under-weight children give no thought to the youngster's emotional well-being, therefore to the family atmosphere in which he lives, to his need of more relaxation, calmness and serenity.

Even his appetite may be dependent chiefly on these factors. Many a child would enjoy his meal better and eat more abundantly if he came to it relaxed and had no irritation imposed on him by adults while he eats.

Then in matters of the child's learning good toilet habits, emotions are big factor, the biggest perhaps. He cooperates at the toilet best when he feels best. No Retreat On Air Rights

It is urgent, and likely to become more so, that the United States press its fight for world-wide freedom of the air to a successful conclusion. This is one of the "left over" issues which the Big Four foreign ministers did not settle. The United States wants the right to fly its planes over all countries, but has an immediate stake in winning this freedom over the former Axis territories and their satellites.

So far Russia has been the outstanding proponent of air monopoly; her fliers time and again have been forced down at gun point the planes of other nations which have trespassed by accident into zones over which she had some claim. She refuses flatly to permit the planes of other nations to fly over her territory and may be expected to attempt to restrict all of Europe similarly, if she can.

Freedom of the air—now as it is among the necessary rights that must govern international affairs—is a major question, and upon it the United States should keep a firm stand.

Ten Million Murders

For the slaughter of 900 American prisoners of war and helpless Belgian civilians caught in the Battle of the Bulge, 43 Nazi elite guardsmen have been sentenced to death by an American military court at Dachau. A grim and terrible story of German mercilessness was unfolded at their trial. Thirty other defendants received lesser sentences.

But these are only the trigger murderers. The men who were ultimately responsible for the German reversion to utter savagery still are being given their "due process of law" at Nuernberg. The testimony, at last, is nearing its end, but it will be September, at the earliest, before the 22 defendants know their fate. Then, after the trial of the Nazi leaders closes, the organizations they created are to go on trial. If the organizations are found guilty of war crimes, then their members may also be tried. One million Germans have a stake in the outcome of the organizational trials.

But justice as yet has only stepped across the threshold of that dark and bloody arena which was Nazi Germany. Only 900 were murdered in cold blood at the Bulge. For the 10,000,000 whom the Nuernberg evidence shows were murdered elsewhere, atonement still awaits.

Headed For The Shelf

Uruguay's proposal that the nations of this hemisphere accept the principle of collective intervention in the affairs of any American state violating fundamental human rights or failing to meet its international obligations seems destined for oblivion. At least the first step toward shelving it has been taken.

The governing board of the Pan-American Union has approved and referred to the various governments, by unanimous vote, a "Declaration of the Rights and Duties of American States" that includes these words: "Intervention by any one or more states, directly and indirectly, and for whatever reasons, in the internal or external affairs of another state, is inadmissible." The sweeping nature of that sentence needs no comment.

But this action is not final. The draft declaration is to be transmitted to the governments of the American nations for their "observations and comments." These are to be returned by October 15, and the governing body of the Pan-American Union will then prepare a draft that will be placed before the conference of American states to be held at Bogota, Colombia, next year.

But 11 nations have already expressed opposition to the Uruguayan proposal, despite the support given it by Secretary of State Byrnes. And since the United States was represented on an eight-nation committee appointed to prepare the draft declaration, it appears that the American government is ready to let collective intervention be pigeonholed.

If so, the decision can be defended on the ground that it was unavoidable when Washington's ill-fated Argentine policy failed. One thing is certain, and that is that Washington can not force South American nations to abandon their independence against their will.

They Want Capitalism
In spite of the shortages of many of the luxuries of life in the United States (to say nothing of shortages of a few of the necessities), Europeans continue to look upon this country as economic heaven. They don't admire Americans, but they marvel continually at America.

The Wall Street Journal staff correspondent in London finds that 80,000 in Britain are urging their claims to be admitted to the United States at once. Ten thousand of these are British subjects who formerly resided in the United States and who want to go back, notwithstanding the "liberalism" of the British Labor government, which is going to nationalize coal, medicine and a few other little things.

Fifteen thousand awaiting a chance to go to America are refugees and nationals from continental countries. They may not have an accurate idea of America but they have a bitterly clear notion of what they don't want to go back to. They vote for America and are willing to bet their lives and their living that America is better.

An additional ten thousand are British girls who said "yes" when American GIs proposed. To them America is chocolate and a warm misty golden glow. They'll make good wives, too, if Uncle Sam gives them the opportunity to join their fiancés. The rest of the 80,000 are GI brides and their babies.

If the doors of American immigration were thrown wide open, and ships provided to accommodate the floodtide of those who long to come here, millions of harassed mankind would pour in upon us. And if labor prices go higher and higher and labor hours shrink to fewer and fewer, we may have to send to Europe to find somebody who really wants to work. Did our friends in the feather-bedding, striking, "vacationing" unions ever think of that?—Dallas News.

Sulmonetti Party Returns From Trip

Local Evangelistic Party Presents
Musical Concerts In Several Churches

Rev. Francesco P. Sulmonetti, pastor of the Italian Methodist church, Mrs. Sulmonetti and children, Earl and Ethna, have returned home from a month's vacation and were in charge of the services Sunday morning and evening, and also at Hillside in the afternoon.

The Sulmonetti's vacation was spent in the eastern part of the United States and Canada. They have been motoring through several states visiting with friends, churches and mission fields. At several places they introduced themselves as the "Sulmonetti Evangelistic Party", which consists of four members of the family, the Rev. Sulmonetti as the director, Mrs. Sulmonetti as co-director and pianist, Earl, 15 years old, as the violinist and Ethna, nine years old, as the gospel singer.

The first concert was given in Cranford, N. J., at the Italian Mission, that was founded by the Rev. Sulmonetti. The next concert was given in the Italian Methodist church, Elizabeth, N. J., which was also founded by the Rev. Sulmonetti. Concerts then followed at the East Side Presbyterian church, Newark, N. J., and St. Paul's Methodist church, East Boston, Mass. The last was given at Mrs. Sulmonetti's home church in Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

Cities and other historical places of interest were visited including Harrisburg, Pa., Elizabeth, Cranford, Atlantic City and Ocean Grove, New Jersey.

New York City, N. Y., New Haven, Conn., the home of Yale University were also visited. The steeple of the Old North church at Boston was climbed, Paul Revere's residence was seen along with the Boston Common, the Massachusetts state capitol, the famous Bunker Hill monument, the statue of the minute men, and the old battle grounds of Concord and Lexington, Mass.

The return was made via the beautiful western part of Massachusetts, the Berkshire mountains, and via the Peace bridge, Buffalo. The Sulmonettis were accompanied home by Miss Olive Duvall, of Newton Upper Falls, Mass., sister of Mrs. Sulmonetti, and Miss Marjorie Duvall, of Waburn, Mass., niece of Mrs. Sulmonetti, who will visit for two or more weeks.

DOGS EAT UP $600

FARMERSVILLE, Tex., July 23.—(INS)—If Waldo Spain's racing greyhounds look like money winners today—there's a reason.

The dogs ate up $600 concealed in a box of meat scraps.

Coleman Jennings, who with his partner, Cip Smith, runs a meat market, gave his neighbor, Spain, the box of meat scraps.

Too late yesterday, Jennings discovered Smith had hidden $600 in currency and checks in the box.

The partners found only a few scraps of money and checks when they rushed to the Spain kennels.

La Guardia-Son Talk With Pope

VATICAN CITY, July 23.—(INS)—Pope Pius XII received UNRRA Administrator Fiorenzo H. La Guardia in private audience for 15 minutes Monday, during which the former New York mayor presented his son, Eric, to the supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic church.

Later, upon leaving the Vatican, the UNRRA head said:

"The Pope is well acquainted with actual food situations throughout the world."

La Guardia, with the inevitable sombrero that has made his name and "The Hat" synonymous, posed for photographs with the two Americans attached to the Vatican, Monsignors Carr and McGeough.

British Foreign Offices Hedges On German Stand

Modifies Former Statement On Proposal For Economic Fusion In Germany

LONDON, July 23.—(INS)—A spokesman for the British Foreign office hedged somewhat Monday on the government's previous statement that it "warmly welcomed" the American proposal for economic fusion among occupation zones in vanquished Germany.

Following the initial cordial reception, the spokesman blew hot, then cold, stating at one moment that the experts are conferring in Berlin on the details of implementing the plan, then later amending this to indicate they are coming to London to lay technical problems before the cabinet and let it decide the policy.

His summation of the American offer came as Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British deputy military commander in Germany, and his political adviser, Sir William Strang, consulted members of the government on the proposal for economic unity.

The British reluctance to embrace unequivocally the plan devised by American Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in Europe, is all the more mysterious in view of repeated declarations of support by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The foreign secretary has said over and over again that Britain cannot continue payments of 80 million pounds sterling annually in the form of "reparations" to keep the British zone going, and the intolerable situation must be ended as soon as possible.

STAB WOUNDS FATAL

SOMERSET, Pa., July 23.—(INS)—Albert Flegie and Ernie J. Johnson, of Quercreek, were recovering in a hospital today from knife wounds suffered in a melee in which Henry Centay, 29, of Boswell, was fatally injured.

State police said the altercation occurred at the Firemen's club at nearby Freidens.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 23.—(INS)—Kenny Baker gave Hollywood's biggest sigh of relief today.

That was to be expected. After carrying two jobs—seventeen hours a day—for a couple of weeks, Kenny was happy to settle down to a normal pattern of movie life again.

The reason was that Kenny was not only starting during the daytime in Republic's "Calendar Girl", but at night he was on the stage in Hollywood co-starring with Irene Manning in "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time".

Said Kenny:

"The fact is it didn't give me much time to sleep. I had to be at the studio at 8:30 a. m. all made up and ready for work. I'd get finished before the camera at 6 p. m. Then I'd get a quick dinner and go up to the theater."

"By the time they play was finished and I'd got cleaned up, it would be 1 a. m. before I got home to bed."

"It kept me pretty much on the go, but I'm not kicking. It's one of those things."

"I'll say this though. When the picture is finished I'm going to take the family and go on a wonderful month's vacation."

It turned out the Bakers are planning a jaunt in their trailer. Kenny continued:

"First we plan to visit Yellowstone Park and some of the other national parks. Then we're coming back to the High Sierras where I intend to get in some fishing. I love to fish."

Your reporter wanted to know if Mrs. Baker was going to do the cooking en route.

"Oh, yes," Kenny replied, "but I cook too. There are certain things I like to make, like biscuits and pancakes. I also like to cook eggs."

Kenny and your reporter got into a long discussion on how to cook eggs. It probably wouldn't interest you.

George Montgomery and Dinah Shore are still having their problems getting their San Fernando Valley ranch home completed. But they're a little better off now than they were for months.

They've finally had an extra three-car garage converted into a guest cottage and they're living in that while work moves at a snail's pace on the main house.

Before they made their recent trip to New York they were sleeping in the living room because the bedroom was too small to hold their double bed. The house was incomplete when they bought it.

Your reporter ran into George as he was starting "High Window" for 20th Century-Fox.

He said:

"We're trying to add a bedroom, dining room, kitchen and bath, but it's mighty slow going. I had four carpenters at work one day, but they only worked one day. I'm hopeful of getting some more soon."

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

WHAT HAS JOE STARTED?

New Castle, Pa., July 22, 1946.
City Editor,
New Castle News:
I have followed with keen interest the letters which have appeared following the discussion by Joe Bulger a few weeks ago respecting the directional arrows on top of the Court House, and am moved to offer some data relative to locating the true north which seems to be the crux of the matter.

I do not know any of the gentlemen involved in the controversy as my life in recent years has been spent in following the sea where a constant knowledge of where the true north lies is a prime necessity. An error of only one degree will throw you off your course a mile in every sixty miles travelled, and on a dark night an error of much less than one mile might spell the difference between keeping your ship in the channel, or piling her up on the rocks. And when coming in from sea you want to keep off the rocks and hit the Statue of Liberty right smack on the nose. So you better know, among other things, exactly just where the true north lies and no fooling.

One of the standard methods of finding true north is by means of the North or Polar star. First you must find the Pole star. The principal way to do this is by means of the Big Dipper. In the early evening at this time of year, the Dipper will be found in the west section of the north sky with the three stars in the handle pointing upward and the four stars forming the bowl so placed that the open side of the bowl looks to the right. The two lower stars forming the bowl are called the pointers. The pointers always point to the Pole star. The distance between the two pointers is about one-seventh of the distance from the pointers to the Pole star, and no other star shows between the pointers and the Pole star.

But the Pole star is not the true north. Like the Dipper and all the other stars in the heavens, the Pole star revolves around the true north pole in flattened circle, which is longer from east to west than from north to south. It makes the circuit once every day. There are only two instants each day when the Pole star is exactly true north, and those times are when the star is directly above, or directly below the pole. If you draw a line from the third star in the handle of the Dipper to the Pole star it will pass through the true north pole. So when you make your observation for true north, you must pick the time when this line is exactly perpendicular. This will be when the third star in the handle is either directly above or directly below the Pole star.

It is perhaps of interest to know that the Dipper, like all other star groups, reaches the same spot in the heavens approximately four minutes earlier each day, so knowing the time of year, and time of night, it is simple to calculate just where to look for the Dipper.

The main principle is explained with apologies to Mr. Bulger.

Truly,
S. TARBOARD.

EQUITY SUITS

Two equity suits have been entered in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Harry C. Smith files an equity suit against N. Robert Nelson to bring about a partition of some property in Bessener, once the property of Aga H. Smith, now deceased.

Harry C. Smith and N. Robert Nelson have half interests in the property with a possible lease claim by the Premium Oil company.

The court is asked to rule on the question of partition and the possible claim of the oil company.

John Prokoke and Mary Annie Prokoke file a suit in equity against John Hink and Stephano Hink and County Commissioners Earl R. Wiener, Karl T. Rohrer and Joseph P. Travers. It is charge that the defendants occupy a piece of property owned by the county commissioners and that they have diverted the flow of water from the county owned ground until it flows onto a nine acre piece of the plaintiffs, rendering it unfit for cultivation.

"HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER"

International relations, insofar as Canada and County Commissioner Karl T. Rohrer are concerned, are slightly strained just now. Rohrer, a veteran Canadian vacationer, had 29 bass, a rod and reel and $13 fine taken from him when stopped at the customs house in Fort Erie several days.

It happened this way. Mr. Rohrer and a number of other campers had left camp and each had no more than the legally permitted one days catch to bring back to the states.

Mr. Rohrer had the best "ice box" and they loaded all the fish into his box. The cars were separated and Mr. Rohrer checked into Fort Erie without any sign of the other campers.

The customs men confiscated 29 bass (beauties too KTR says), took his pole and reel and fined him $18 for having more than the legal number of fish with him.

"I never wanted to see those friends of mine more than I did then," said Mr. Rohrer. "I waited at the border for two hours and then decided they had either gone on ahead or crossed at some other bridge."

In the event Mr. Rohrer promised you a bass, be assured it was taken by the Canadian customs guards.

Now SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY" Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BATTLE ON POWER

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—(INS)—City officials today mapped plans to take its electric power fight with the Duquesne Light Co. before the Public Utilities Commission.

Mayor David L. Lawrence and other members of his official family have agreed that the complaint should be filed with the PUC as quickly as possible.

The bone of contention: the light company asked 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour; the city contended 1.48 cents per hour would be a more equitable price.

Preliminary discussions between the two parties ended in stalemate.

Martin Mum On Wage Demands Of Liquor Employees

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin gave no hint today of recognizing the wage demands advanced by some state liquor store employees belonging to a CIO union.

Demands for a $30 a month salary increase were renewed Sunday by the state committee of liquor store employees, an affiliate of the United Public Workers of America.

William Motz of Pittsburgh and Karl Kirchoff of Philadelphia, co-chairmen, said representatives of employees had agreed on wage increases and revision of classifications during the meeting.

They claimed the increases could be financed by what they called "the continued fat profits of the liquor control board and the mounting state surplus."

Strikes have been voted by locals in eight counties, according to the co-chairmen. They were not identified.

Child Resting Well After Razor Blade Swallowing

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—(INS)—Two-year-old William Mealer, Jr., of St. Louis was reported in good condition today after swallowing most of a two-edged razor blade.

City hospital physicians said an examination disclosed that the child also had swallowed what appears to be a piece of beading wire.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mealer, Sr., said the boy apparently obtained the blade from the top of a radio where it had been placed. They found the child choking and holding a piece of the blade in his hand.

Physicians attempted to remove the swallowed portion of the blade with an esophagoscope, but the metal dropped into the baby's stomach just before it was to be withdrawn.

They said chances were good that the object will be disposed of normally within 24 hours.

Brent Yegg Not Yet Apprehended

State police have not yet apprehended the yegg who blew the safe Sunday morning at the Shaffer grocery in Brent. The safe cracker failed to obtain any of the money in the safe, because the nitro-cellulose charge "jammed" the inner compartment of the safe, they stated.

Mrs. Burton Shaffer, wife of the grocery store proprietor, heard the heavy blast at 3 a. m. Her husband saw the man in the nearby store. Mrs. Shaffer rang the telephone central to call state police at Mercer.

The bell rang also in the grocery and the yegg, hearing it, fled in a parked automobile, it was reported.

SPARE TIRE BAN IS CONTINUED

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—The ban against the spare tire on new automobiles will extend at least until October 1, the Civilian Production Administration announced today.

In October, CPA will decide whether manufacturers may add the fifth tire, Director W. J. Sears of CPA's rubber division said.

In the last four months or record-breaking tire output, Sears said, 83 per cent of the casings produced have been shipped as replacement for tires on the road. This demand still outstrips production Sears added.

An attempt was made to open the safe in the A & P store at Mars. The combination was knocked off, but the safe was not opened.

TOKYO, July 23.—(INS)—The death sentence of Pvt. Leo Christensen of Iowa, Ida, who was convicted of murder, rape and assault against civilians, was reduced Monday to life imprisonment by Maj. Gen. James Lester, commander of the U. S. Twenty-Fourth Division.

General Lester, after reviewing proceedings in the case, said that evidence was insufficient for a murder conviction and found the young soldier guilty of manslaughter, rape and assault.

The record of the case will be forwarded to the judge advocate general in Washington for final disposition.

Christensen was convicted of running down and killing a Japanese boy with his motorcycle, attacking a married woman in her home and assaulting a Japanese man on June 30.

FACTORY WORKERS INCREASE IN JUNE

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia disclosed today that factory employment in Pennsylvania increased one per cent during June.

The bank attributed the increase to partial recovery from the effects of the coal strike. During the same month wage payments rose two per cent.

On the basis of reports from about 2,800 establishments, the bank estimated that 1,036,000 production workers were employed in June with total weekly wages of $42,900,000.

Veteran Strike Stills Midland Crucible Plant

MIDLAND, Pa., July 23.—(INS)—A wildcat strike by ex-servicemen today made 6,000 workers idle at the Midland Crucible Corporation plant at Midland.

All production was halted at the big plant as maintenance crews banked furnaces and tapped open hearths, company officials said.

Harry Petrosky, vice president of the Midland local of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America, declared that the strike was not authorized by the union.

He said the walkout was called by former servicemen in protest of the company's vacation plan. The ex-GI's failed to receive vacations because they did not have 16 pay periods before July 1 as required by the company.

Death Sentence

Changed To Life In Soldier Case

TOKYO, July 23.—(INS)—The death sentence of Pvt. Leo Christensen of Iowa, Ida, who was convicted of murder, rape and assault against civilians, was reduced Monday to life imprisonment by Maj. Gen. James Lester, commander of the U. S. Twenty-Fourth Division.

General Lester, after reviewing proceedings in the case, said that evidence was insufficient for a murder conviction and found the young soldier guilty of manslaughter, rape and assault.

The record of the case will be forwarded to the judge advocate general in Washington for final disposition.

Christensen was convicted of running down and killing a Japanese boy with his motorcycle, attacking a married woman in her home and assaulting a Japanese man on June 30.

'Goldfish Bowl' Policy For Army To Be Followed

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 23.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. F. L. Parks, chief of the war department public relations division, said today that the army intends to pursue a "goldfish bowl" policy as far as the people, the press and the radio are concerned.

Parks declared, in an address before the South Carolina state convention of the American Legion.

"We believe that no dark corners will be allowed to exist where dirt might accumulate. An alert press is an excellent inspector general. If the army has made a mistake, admit it and take your licking. If the army is trying honestly to do a good job, the press and public will realize it, and applaud."

The public relations chief said that in the "twilight" period pending the peace settlements there has been a backlash of criticism of the army. He observed:

"This flurry is partly explained by removal of wartime controls on subject matter, and partly by the post-mortem discussions that naturally follow all wars and other major events."

"Some of this criticism may be justified, some may not. But the important thing, as I see it, is for the American people to be given the facts, so that they can judge for themselves."

Old Battleship Is Being Stripped

NEW YORK, July 23.—(INS)—A skeleton crew began stripping the doughty old battleship Prairie State today for what probably will be a lonely rendezvous with Davy Jones' locker.

Strip Mining Of Coal Increasing In Lawrence Co.

Strip coal mining is increasing in Lawrence county, according to J. H. Filby of the Filby company, which does strip mining here.

There are some 350 companies doing strip mining in Pennsylvania with a large number working on the Middle Kittanning seam which runs through this region. This vein is from 20 to 24 inches thick and runs from the surface to about 20 to 25 feet deep.

Some of the coal mined by stripping is used as domestic coal. Most of it is steam coal, a coal less bituminous, burning well with a large flame and little smoke. Steam coal is sold to local industries.

Stripping yields a fair grade of coal and there is no waste by leaving part of the vein as in below surface mining.

Modern machinery has helped to increase strip mining for it is now possible to get the deeper seam with less help and in a shorter time. Stripping has helped to reclaim land that would otherwise be lost due to erosion.

SEEK TO REVERT CALIFORNIA RENTS TO JUNE 30 LEVEL

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 23.—(INS)—Legal machinery to enforce rollbacks of rents for residences, rooming houses and hotels in California to June 30 OPA levels was in the making Monday as a special session of the state legislature convened in Sacramento.

Despite any promise of congressional rent-control legislation, the session is convening to prevent effectiveness of rent increases or unwarranted tenant evictions at the Aug. 1 deadline.

In calling the special session, Gov. Earl Warren stressed the fact that every monthly tenancy could be terminated Aug. 1, causing chaos and suffering.

Warren also said that "even if a federal bill is passed, it might rest on the president's desk" until after that date.

Will Publish Official A-Bomb Operation Report

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy announced Wednesday that an official "crossroads" report on the first two atomic bomb tests against naval vessels is scheduled tentatively for publication late this fall.

Blandy, commander of Joint Task Force No. 1, said in a statement released by the navy department that the report would cover both technical and non-technical phases of the explosions in the Marshalls.

The report, in book form, will be illustrated. The navy said it is being published as was the official Smythe report on atomic energy to make available as many findings as security permits.

Dr. William Shurcliffe, technical historian of the tests at Bikini, is compiling the book. He is assisted by David Z. Beckler and Peregrine White, formerly of the Manhattan project.

FAR BEHIND SCHEDULE

DETROIT — (INS) — Passenger car production was 1,680,000 below schedule in the first six months of 1946, George W. Romney, general manager, Automobile Manufacturers Association, announced. Production schedules for 1946 reported by the individual companies to the war production board in 1945, called for assembly and delivery to dealers of 2,320,000 cars by the end of June. Actual deliveries totaled only 634,000, more than 1,680,000 cars below schedule.

Before the war, there were about 25,000 privately owned airplanes in the United States.

The City Slicker and His Cow

Everybody felt sorry for Farmer Whitney when his only daughter Annie ran off with the City Slicker. But they felt sorrier for Annie when her Dad died, and she and her husband came back to run the farm.

Nobody liked the City Slicker much, but Annie was a local gal—and they did have had luck. Frosts hit the orchards, crops were ruined, the barn burned down with the last cow in it.

So the neighbors got together and talked things over. For the sake of Annie's Dad, one gave them a cow. A second agreed to furnish feed. A third offered the use of his barn until the Slicker and his wife got on their feet.

Well, the Slicker soon found that the cow gave more milk than he and Annie could use. Being a shrewd citizen, he sold the surplus. The proceeds helped him to buy another cow. The neighbors, approving this ambition, supplied more feed and the vet offered his services free.

About that time, the Slicker decided the local milkmen were robbers. He did some tall talking about the high prices they charged; meanwhile selling his own milk for less. Many folks agreed that the Slicker was a great crusader against selfish interests.

But one of the neighbors (who happened to be a milkman) figured things out. He knew he couldn't afford to buy cows, feed and doctor them, acquire equipment, pay deliverymen—and still sell at the same price as the Slicker, who hadn't a dime invested, got feed free, and had no overhead.

A great to-do resulted, and soon folks topped hauling feed to the Slicker's cows (which were now four in number). The neighbor requested barn rent, and the vet asked pay for his services. When the Slicker was really on his own—he suddenly realized the local milkmen were doing a darned good job to sell milk as cheaply as they did.

It's easy to compare the Slicker's methods with government in business. When taxpayers' money furnishes everything—even to making up any annual losses—it's not surprising that no business-managed, tax-paying company can compete with it—any more than the local milkmen could compete with the City Slicker.

Delay Hearing On Trade Routes Until August 12

Maritime Commission Postpones
Pacific Routes Hearing Due
To Surge Of Interest

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—The Maritime commission announced today the hearing on Pacific trade routes scheduled for July 29 has been postponed until Aug. 12 because of an unexpected surge of interest in postwar steamship services to the Far East.

The commission extended the deadline for filing applications for purchase of ships to use in Pacific trades from July 24 to Aug. 2.

Officials said that more than 50 steamship companies and individuals have signified their intention of being represented at the hearing, which is expected to see the pattern of American trade with the Orient, Australia, and the Netherlands East Indies.

Routes to be considered include those to the Netherlands East Indies, Asiatic Ports and India from California, Pacific Northwest and Gulf and Atlantic coast cities, and from all United States ports to Australasia and the islands en route.

Protests Registered

The commission acknowledged that a number of protests had been registered against the "rush" hearing, for which applicants had been given only 20 days to prepare the necessary data, and that these protests governed the decision to postpone the inquiry.

Spokesmen pointed out that interest in the matter is particularly intense in California, which originates more than two-thirds of all Pacific coast exports to the Orient and receives almost all of the imports.

The question of government operation as opposed to private enterprise is expected to figure importantly in the hearing, since the commission owns the American President lines, traditionally a dominant influence in Pacific trade.

Officials said all interested groups, firms and individuals will be given an opportunity to put their views on record "in order that the nation's best economic interests may be served."

PROVIDE CHILDREN WITH PLAY YARD AND EQUIPMENT

With children spending more play time outdoors now that warm weather is here, parents are urged to see that play space and equipment are adequate and safe for the children, reminds Miss McClain.

Pre-school children need a fenced space to relieve mothers of worry about how far the youngsters may wander, is a comment of Miss Marquette Little, child care extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. A fence will keep the children out of the street or road, from getting into streams or ponds, or from going to the barn where they might get under the feet of livestock.

Be sure that there are no broken glass, nails and other sharp articles in the children's play space. Weakened ropes on swings need replacing. Bolts, screws, and nails should be screwed or driven in tightly or replaced by new ones that will hold equipment together and make it safe for the children's playing.

No doubt, says Miss Little, some additions could be made to the play equipment to make the play yard more attractive and beneficial to the children. Such additions could include wooden boxes of various sizes, one-inch boards 8 to 12 inches wide and 10 to 12 feet long, nails, kegs, sawhorses, and ladders.

The boxes can be used when piled together for a number of ways, depending on the imagination. The purposes, from making playhouses to see-saws (when used with wooden horses), and slides. The nail kegs fit into a child's play in many ways, depending on his imagination. Ladders should be built especially for a child, says Miss Little. Make them light enough for the child to handle and the rungs suited to the child's size.

It will be a relief to the busy mother to have her child happily and busily playing in a safe yard, while the vigorous and interesting outdoor play will be of inestimable value to the child.

LEMONADE

Lemonade is a fine hot weather drink. It tastes good. It looks good. It makes a person feel cooler. It is popular.

Besides it provides lots of vitamin C. Perhaps it is good to use the lemons, skins and all. The skin contains a lot of vitamin which dissolves in the water. By squeezing the lemon and throwing away the skin there is considerable waste of vitamin.

It should not be forgotten that a glass of sweetened lemonade provides a hundred calories or more of nourishment.

To those who are overweight, this is probably bad news. But cheer up, there may be a shortage of cream and bacon so that will even things up a little for those who are overly upholstered.

Appeals To U. S. To Cease Sending Weapons To China

SHANGHAI, July 23.—(INS)—Mrs. Sun Yat Sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese Republic, appealed to the United States Monday to cease supplying arms and ammunition to China. She charged that reactionaries are trying to foment war between the United States and Russia.

In a 1,500-word statement she said that "because reactionaries hope a China civil conflict will incite an American-Soviet war and thus crush the Chinese Communists, the American people, long China's friends, must be told this is the road to disaster."

The statement added: "The American people must be told that American reactionaries are teaming up with Chinese reactionaries, each encouraging the other. 'They must be told that the presence of United States armed forces in China will not strengthen peace and order among the Chinese people."

Mrs. Sun appealed for a coalition government, urging the Communists and Kuomintang to arrange their differences.

She said that further United States loans should be given only to "a reorganized and truly representative government."

She declared that if America will make plain that she will not continue to supply munitions and military assistance there will be no spread of the civil war. Mrs. Sun said:

"I appeal to my American friends to foster a coalition government by stopping military supplies."

Applicants Scarce For Teaching Jobs

Several Schools In Rural District
Are Still Seeking Teachers,
Sylvan States

Although there are not so many vacancies in the county elementary schools this year, district boards are finding it hard to get applicants.

There are over a half-dozen vacancies, County Superintendent of Schools Sylvan states, but no one appears to want to teach school these days, which is quite a contrast to the days a few years back, when there was a surplus of teachers.

Mr. Jackson alone has three vacancies in the elementary grades this year, with vacancies also existing in other districts. Persons who are qualified to teach in the elementary grades will find no trouble landing a job, it would seem.

GERMAN PRISONERS LAST OCCUPANTS OF CAMP SHANKS, N. Y.

CAMP SHANKS, N. Y., July 23.—(INS)—The vast emptiness of Camp Shanks echoed to marching feet for the last time Monday as the remnants of 300,000 German prisoners of war were formed in ranks for departure to their homeland.

When the 1,385 Germans leave, Shanks and its hundreds of buildings sprawling over 2,090 acres, becomes a ghost town.

From it more than 1,300,000 Americans went overseas. Other hundreds of thousands returned to it for staging separation centers or assignment to hospitals.

A few of the barracks are being converted into homes for discharged servicemen who want to resume their studies.

The greater part of the camp is ready for reconversion to farmland.

Testifies Effort Made To Influence Her Testimony

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—A red-haired former secretary in the Garsson munition empire testified today that two officials of the combine attempted to influence her testimony before the senate war profits investigating committee.

The witness, Mrs. Jean Bates, declared that Joseph F. Freeman, a combine official, told her that he and Albert W. Jacobson, war department legal consultant, would "be in jail by Monday" if she testified she had seen Jacobson in the Washington office of the Erie Basin Metal Products Co.

Mrs. Bates told the committee that Freeman and Dr. Henry M. Garsson asked her to be "a little bit hazy" in her testimony.

She said they made the request in Freeman's Washington home July 12 after she had given a statement contradicting the sworn testimony of other witnesses.

Mrs. Bates added that Freeman told her his wife was "going to have a baby," and said:

"Think Of Me In Jail"

"Just think of me being in jail when she has a baby."

The witness testified further: "They got me upset and frightened and all I could think of was what would happen to me."

She testified that during the course of the conversation "Mr. Freeman patted me on the back and chucked me under the chin."

A committee member asked: "They brought you there for the pre-arranged purpose to protect Jacobson?"

"Yes," Mrs. Bates answered.

Doolittle Assails Navy Air Plans

NEW YORK, July 23.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, retired, today accused the navy of planning to establish "a naval counterpart of the strategic air force" with long-range bombers.

The former commander of the eighth air force and now president of the Air Force Association said in a prepared statement:

"We cannot afford two air forces. We do not need two air forces, any more than we need two armies or two navies."

Doolittle said the navy wanted its long-range, land-based aircraft to augment it "obsolete battleships and obsolescent aircraft carriers."

He accused the navy of "carefully planned propaganda" in connection with the proposed army-navy merger and said the army air force had proved its right to be the country's major air striking arm.

TWO-YEAR-OLD LANCASTER AUTO CRASH FATALITY

The infant's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hill, were injured when the vehicle skidded into an embankment near Pugh's mill.

Begin Third 'Y' Camp Week

Sixty-Four Boys Off To Camp Fred
L. Rentz Monday For Week
Of Fun In Open

Third week at Camp Fred L. Rentz began Monday with 64 young boys between the ages of eight and 12 leaving the city for the summer site and a week in the open.

With the eight counselors serving at the camp, the total for the week is 72. Boys will enjoy the privileges of this modern recreation spot, swinging into a week of athletics, movies, games, hikes and devotional services.

Monday the boys were assigned to their cabin and also placed on respective athletic teams for their seven days at camp. Competition between the teams has been very spirited the first two weeks and this group is expected to carry on the inter-camp rivalry.

Robert L. Meermans, general secretary of the branch, announced today that quite an accumulation of personal belongings has been left behind by previous campers and boys should call at the "Y" desk to claim their possessions. The lost articles include pillows, pillowcases, towels, underwear, coats and jackets.

Gov. Martin Says Deshon Price Not Fair To State

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—The Federal government's $2,512,297 payment for Deshon General hospital near Butler was labeled inadequate today by Gov. Edward Martin.

The price was fixed by the Veterans Administration which will incorporate the institution into its nationwide hospital program. The state valued the hospital, completed in 1942, at $4,000,000.

"The payment is not very fair to Pennsylvania but it doesn't make much difference as we, the people, ultimately pay the bill because it all comes out of the same pocket."

Strip Operators Planning Protest

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 23.—(INS)—The Fayette county strip mine operators today planned to file a protest with the government coal mine administration of a five-cent-a-ton royalty to the AFL United Mine Workers welfare fund.

President Lee Ford said that the association considered a one-half cent a ton payment sufficient. He pointed out that there are fewer occupational hazards and accidents in strip mines than in deep mines.

Suits Are Filed Against Eye Doctors And Optical Dealers

Charge Eyeglass Prices Are Fixed Through System Of Rebates To Doctors

WASHINGTON, July 23—(INS)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark today announced the filing in Chicago of two civil suits charging 51 eye doctors and seven optical wholesalers with fixing eyeglass prices through a system of rebates to eye doctors.

The attorney general charged that the accused wholesalers gave the defendant doctors approximately one-half the prices paid by their patients for spectacles in rebates.

Wholesalers named in the first suit were: Bausch and Lomb, of Rochester, N. Y.; Rices Optical Co., Consolidated, of Chicago; Rices Optical Co., Inc., of San Francisco; McIntire, Magee and Brown Co., of Philadelphia, Pa.; and Southeastern Optical Co., Inc., of Richmond, Va.

Wholesalers named in the second suit were the American Optical Co., of Southbridge, Mass., "a voluntary association" and the American Optical Co., of Southbridge, "a corporation."

In each suit the individual eye doctors named "were sued as a class."

Several doctors were specifically named in each suit as representatives of the entire class of doctors receiving the alleged rebates.

Speaking of Prices...

WITH prices so much in the news these days, here's an interesting story. It's the petroleum industry's record of gasoline price and quality since 1920. It's a story of quality going UP; prices coming DOWN.

30¢ a gallon then; a little over 20¢ now. Even with greatly increased taxes included, you pay one-third less today than in 1920, after World War I. Excluding taxes, you pay only one-half as much today.

and quality...

Meanwhile, gasoline quality has advanced by leaps and bounds. In fact, during the 10 years before the war, the octane number improvement in gasoline has permitted an increase of over 25% in the compression ratio of engines in American cars. This has improved gasoline mileage by at least 11%.

Service, too, has increased greatly—with the industry's 400,000 expert roadside service stations to meet your needs as you drive today.

Naturally, we're proud of our part in this job—and glad to publish this record which shows so well how American business succeeds at its job of producing better and better living at lower and lower costs for the people of this country.

Claims Telephone Calls To Combine Office Only Social

Former Democratic Congressman Testifies Before Senate Probers Today

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Judge Samuel Dickstein, of New York, former Democratic congressman, told the Mead committee today he "possibly" made some long distance calls to Washington headquarters of a munitions combine under investigation but insisted they were "strictly social."

The New York State Supreme Court judge, appearing voluntarily as a witness in the "war profits" inquiry, testified that he could not remember talking to Henry M. Garson or his brother, Murray Garson, by long distance telephone in 1942.

Makes Explanation
His statement was made in explanation of records showing calls placed by the Garsons to Dickstein's New York office with notations that "Congressman Dickstein answered the phone."

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., produced the telephone records and questioned Judge Dickstein concerning them.

The former chairman of the House immigration committee said that it was "possible" that he may have returned calls to the Garsons upon hearing that they had tried to reach him when he was absent from his New York office.

Dickstein testified to this effect when Ferguson confronted him with a reported call from his New York telephone to Murray Garson or Joseph F. Freeman on July 23, 1942, reversing the charges.

"That's possible," the judge said. "I may have called them back. I do not recall speaking to the Garsons on long distance in 1942."

Dickstein was a congressman in 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Pittsch have returned from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and will temporarily reside at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna S. Jamison, of 411 Blaine street.

In the first Baptist church, Dorothy E. Granato became the bride of Marvin L. Pittsch, son of Mrs. Ella Pittsch, of R. D. 1, New Wilmington, on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p. m.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, the pastor, officiating with the single ring ceremony. Mrs. W. H. Luthardt, the organist, gave a number of nuptial selections.

The bride was attired in a pink street-length gown, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Alice Carrigan was maid of honor. She wore an aqua green gown, carrying a bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley. William H. Jamison, brother of the bride, was best man.

On October 12, 1945, the groom was honorably discharged from U. S. service, after serving six years. He is attending Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Blanket Wage Boosts For State Employees Out

Governor Martin Says, However, That Most Of State's 41,000 Workers To Get Increases

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—Blanket wage boosts for state employees were ruled out today by Gov. Edward Martin but he emphasized that most of the commonwealth's 41,000 workers would receive cost-of-living increases.

He was unable to estimate the amount of the general increase but indicated it would be sufficient to offset most increased costs.

"As I have stated many times there will be increases and there will be more increases than I had contemplated," the governor asserted.

He said a special committee was working out the "deadwood" among state workers but did not report the number of unnecessary employees dismissed or shifted to other jobs.

The last wage increase became effective September 1, 1944, when 25,000 employees receiving less than $3000 annually were granted a 10 per cent boost.

The governor's statement followed on the heels of the Pennsylvania Council of Public Employees (A.F.L.) rejection of his policy of granting meritorious wage increases.

Navy To Fill Civilian Posts On Pacific Isles

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Worried about the housing shortage, high rents, and the rising cost of living?

Here's a chance to solve the problem. With housing for $6 a month and three square meals for 70 cents a day.

Of course, there's a catch to it. The Navy department called today for qualified men and women workers to fill civilian positions, ranging from stenographers to engineers—in the Marianas islands.

The Navy coyly noted in its announcement that the jobs would mean "relief from spiraling food prices and rents."

Among the posts for which workers are urgently needed are telephone technicians at $93.60 for a 42-hour work week and engineers at an annual salary at from $5,186 to $7,481.

The Lands and Claims commission on Guam needs engineering draftsmen, $2,992; survey aides, $3,305; land appraisers, $5,186; and acquisition assistants, $5,186, and attorneys, $5,186 to $7,481.

Only single applicants are eligible because of the lack of suitable housing for married couples. Women applicants must be over 21.

Expel Soldiers Who Wed German Girls Illegally

FRANKFURT, July 23.—(INS)—Two former GI's who married German frauleins in violation of U. S. Army orders were expelled today from Europe and ordered to return to America without their wives.

They are Charles Quatt, of Paterson, N. J., and Philip Haenze, of Pittsburgh.

Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in Europe, has banned marriages of American soldiers or army employees to German women. However, the army newspaper Stars and Stripes said eight Americans have already married frauleins.

Several of them have applied to the army for shipment of their wives as "GI brides," but no provisions has been made for transporting German women to the United States.

Polio Strikes Minnesota Cities

MINNEAPOLIS, July 23.—(INS)—The twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul fought infantile paralysis today, with eight deaths reported in Minneapolis since July 1.

The death of nine-year-old Paul Friedmann yesterday brought the Minneapolis death toll since January 1 to nine.

The total of cases reported this year is 111, with 98 listed since July 1.

The death yesterday in St. Paul of Mrs. William Desmond, 37, was the second fatality the disease has claimed since January 1 in that city.

Thirty-nine cases are under quarantine and five have been discharged as cured.

Study prepared for National Aviation Trades association indicates that the cost of operating a $2,500 airplane as compared with auto of same price runs $493.50 more annually.

Barber Claims More Money Made In Good Old Days

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—(INS)—Barbering is the same old business of clipping and shaving, but things are lots tougher now than in the "good old days," according to Martin Oehling, 83, of Pittsburgh.

Retiring recently after 69 years behind a barber chair, he explained:

"The work is harder and the profit less than it was a half century ago. I made more money when haircuts were 15 cents and shaves 10 cents."

Oehling said he used to work a 90 hour week but added that the labor involved equalled only a 40-hour week.

He declared that he withdrew from the union 15 years ago because he was "tired of having them dictate to me."

The veteran barber, in the business since he was 14, retired a month ago to care for his wife who fractured her hip last year.

Believe Britain Turning Away From Socialism

BEXLEY England, July 23.—(INS)—The British Labor party retained its Bexley seat in Parliament today, following a by-election, but Conservatives inferred from the close vote that England was turning from Socialism.

Maj. E. A. Bramall defeated Lt. Col. J. C. Lockwood by 1,851 votes. There was no Liberal party candidate. Bramall polled 19,759 to 17,908 for Lockwood.

In the last year's general election, when the Labor party swept the nation, the Laborites captured Bexley by the great majority of 11 thousand.

TOO, TOO BASHFUL

"I am 25 years old and of foreign birth. After three years in the army, I am now a civilian. I am very much in love with a girl whose parents seem to approve of me. My difficulty is I have an inferiority complex. I am very bashful and afraid to meet people. She, too, is somewhat shy. I would like to marry her if I can get up the nerve to ask her. Can you help me?"

Answer: If you really want to marry the girl, just open your mouth and ask her before someone else gets there first. You say she indicates that she likes you and her mother likes you. What are you waiting for? You'll never find out how she feels until you try her out with a proposal. She can't say anything worse than "no." And if she does, you'll at least know where you stand and make plans elsewhere.

You must have a fairly good idea you will be accepted; otherwise, you would not have progressed to that stage. If you want to get along in this world, Brother, you will have to shake off your bashful streak ... throw out your chest ... hold up your head and feel that you are able to look anyone in the eye.

JUVENILE CRIME RISE BLAMED ON PARENTS BY POLICE

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania chief of police convention in Pittsburgh blamed parents for the present upward trend in juvenile delinquency.

President Theodore H. Hollowell of Elkins Park declared it should be called "parent delinquency" and not "juvenile delinquency."

The convention, however, disagreed on the age for juvenile. Hollowell upheld the present 18-year old law, while Harry J. Nebinger, chief of bank detectives in Philadelphia, maintained 16 should be

Boston Red Sox And Dodgers Face New Dangers

Boston On Road, Dodgers Playing Western Teams

Boston Red Sox Didn't Do So Good On Last Western Jaunt Recalled

DODGERS FACING CARDINAL THREAT

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, July 23.—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who bounce out of their slumps like rubber men, figure to break their deadlock with the St. Louis Cardinals and pile up some kind of a lead in the National League race during the next two weeks, because the immediate schedule favors them.

Starting with the Cubs tonight, the program brings all four western clubs to Brooklyn. The Brooklyn team has won two out of three in each series during the last such invasion. Now that they are riding the crest of a four-game winning streak, which started on the tail end of their disastrous western trip, they should acquire a comfortable margin again during this home stand.

Dodgers Still in
It would be foolhardy to count the Dodgers out of the pennant picture as yet, unless they fall down at Ebbets Field. Right now they seem to be at their peak. Their one source of worry is in the throes of a batting slump.

The Cardinals go against the New York Giants today, while Cincinnati invades Boston, and the Phillies entertain the Pirates under the arc lights.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox, who did not fare so well on their last western jaunt, open up at Chicago today. This time, the Hub outfit has an 11-1 game lead against slump insurance. While Washington invades Detroit and Cleveland entertains the Athletics, the New York Yankees will tackle the St. Louis Browns in a night game.

The mathematical straw at which the drowning Yanks are catching is that they have 12 more games left to play with Boston. The New Yorkers showed no sign of improvement during their home stand, however. They took only six out of 11 at home while the Red Sox were winning 11 out of 13 at Fenway Park.

Need DiMaggio
The Yanks do not figure to get going until Joe DiMaggio gets back into harness. Joining Joe is not going west with the team, however, and there is no telling when he will be back on the picket line. Meanwhile, his replacement, Johnny Lindell, is batting only .229. And Phil Rizzuto, injured shortstop, will not rejoin the team for several days yet. No games were scheduled yesterday.

Francis Signs Up With San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—(INS)—The San Francisco 49ers of the All-American Professional Football Conference had 49 players today on their roster.

Coach Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw announced that signing of Viscount "Vic" Francis, 200-pound fullback from the University of Nebraska, brought his squad to the 49 mark. Francis joined the army air corps in 1942 and for a time played with the Randolph Field, Tex., eleven.

WIN VOLLEYBALL SERIES
Croton avenue playground team won the best of three games against the Washington team yesterday at the Croton grounds in their volleyball match.

The scores were 15-6, 11-15, and 15-0.

Plans Nearly Complete For Stadium 'Show'

Brass Band To Provide Music Up To Time Pitches Begin To Fly Thursday

PUBLIC SHOWING COOPERATIVE SPIRIT

Plans have been practically perfected for the pugilistic extravaganza which will be displayed at 8:30 p. m. E. D. T. Thursday at Taggart stadium for the benefit of the City Recreation fund.

At noon today a report from reservation headquarters stated ring-sides were going like hot cakes on a frosty morning and a big crowd was being made on the reserve sections, 4 and 5.

Now, those who like to clamor into other sections were beckoning of paste-boards and possibility exists that almost 8,000 fans will be in the stadium, Thursday night.

Here are a few of the reasons for the interest:

The title party is being held at the Taggart stadium to increase regional facilities here. The pugilistic docket is composed of some of the best pugilistic talent in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. One of the performers now in the navy, holds Chicago residence.

Professor Joe Repogle and 35 members of the State Guard band have donated their services for a 30-minute concert before the show goes on.

Hanny Bros. has offered free, their public service, which has been accepted.

Various industries, clubs, business, the Legion and individuals have made donations to the fund and chairs for ring-siders were donated by the V. F. W.

Today street department employees, under the supervision of Councilman James Gibson, transported the ring to Taggart stadium where Gary Liao and other school employees began erecting it.

Erecting Lights
Simultaneously Pennsylvania Power company employees under the supervision of W. H. Lukart, line superintendent and Rex Hughes, electrician, began installing the illumination system.

Thursday morning, almost before the crowd-caws, streets department trucks and employees with a score of 69 cars, with Johnny Miladore of Mahoning, winning a prize for the longest drive on Number 1 hole 310 yards. Willie Grommes of Castle Hills won a prize for being closest to the hole on his drive on Number 18-4 feet 9 inches.

Legs prizes went to the Youngstown Ma-Fu club, the 1945 champions, Castle Hills the runners-up were given the beautiful Jack Gerson trophy for their efforts. Dr. Frank Bellino, a prize for low average man for the five matches 74.2 with Fred Palmer, Castle Hills captain also winning a prize for runner-up in average 74.6. Fred Lach got a prize award for medalist for the year with his sensational 68 at Castle Hills. Prizes also went to Bellino, F. Palmer and Joe Battafano for scoring the most points in the league.

Discuss Sixth Team
A short discussion followed the speeches with the trend of thought favoring a sixth team for next year, either Sylvan Heights of New Castle or Blackhawk of Beaver Falls being mentioned to take a franchise.

Attending from Castle Hills in addition to the members of the team were Jimmy Ludwig, secretary of the league, and did a very efficient job this past season. Charles P. "Bugs" Walther of the News sport staff, president of the league was unable to attend the roundup, owing to other commitments.

The league in its first year was a big success, from every standpoint. The members are looking forward to 1947 and a bigger and better league.

South Hill Tops American Legion

McCullough's long home run in the fourth inning with two mates aboard gave the South Hill team a last night at South Hill field, in a playoff of a recent tie game. Strova was the winning hurler, Weisz the loser, although he gave but four hits. Strova was touched for eight hits.

The Legion was unable to hit with men on base, whereas the homer by young McCullough in the fourth cleaned the sacks. Both teams jumped into the first inning with a pair of runs. Gibson of the Legion team was the only batter with two hits, both singles. It was the second loss for the Legion in two days.

Segedi Playing At Tam O'Shanter

Marty Segedi, one of the city's leading amateur golfers, is in Chicago where he will take part in the Tam O'Shanter course All-American tournament for amateurs which got under way there Monday.

Segedi left Saturday evening for Chicago, and expects to make a strong bid for honors there, although he is facing some tough competition.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

BILL FIGLEY, local businessman, has returned with a 23-pound muskie from Canada, caught at Beckett's Landing, Rideau canal. He also caught some pickerel there. . . . Charlie Frenkel has returned from a fishing expedition in Canada. . . . Joe Judge and Tommy Hey, both of Bridgeport, Conn. visitors at the Harry Campbell home, Harlanburg, are staying over for the recreationistic carnival Thursday. . . . Tvas nice of Joe Repogle and the state guard band members to donate their services to entertaining the fans while they're being seated at the stadium, Thursday evening.

When Art Robey, formerly of Chicago, now of Cleveland, crawls into the ring to box Ike Bell of Youngstown, in the main attraction, Thursday evening the fans will be seeing the former Catholic Youth organization champion of Chicago and a former runner-up for the Golden Gloves title. Right now he is in the navy on duty in Cleveland.

According to Johnny Papke, trainer, he is one of the best looking light-heavies to stroll along the amateur pugilistic path and Mr. Bell's son Ike can anticipate a lot of trouble.

One of the most misleading things a fan can do is look at the record in comparing all-time baseball greats. So many changes in rules, fair comparison of early records and the statistics of today is virtually impossible. An important variation is to be found in the different pitching distances which have been in vogue. From 1876 to 1881, the distance was 45 feet; from 1881 to 1893, 50 feet; and since 1893 it has been 60 1/2 feet. Just to clinch the case against the records as a reliable yardstick, the fact is that some of the early records were sloppily kept and as a result are not wholly accurate.

Amateur Golfers Windup League

Roundup At Tam O'Shanter Closes Season For West Penn-Ohio League

Following the round of golf the league members and officials gathered at a cafe and enjoyed a chicken dinner, followed by several speeches with Harry Barber as master of ceremonies.

Johnny Lucas, veteran Sharon golfer, was medalist at the roundup with a scoring 69 card, with Johnny Miladore of Mahoning, winning a prize for the longest drive on Number 1 hole 310 yards. Willie Grommes of Castle Hills won a prize for being closest to the hole on his drive on Number 18-4 feet 9 inches.

U. S. Mints Resume Minting Of Coins For Special Events

Minting Of Coins For Other Nations Proves Lucrative Business For Treasury Department

After a lapse of several years, due to the war and the scarcity of incoming metals the minting of commemorative coins has been resumed again by the United States mints located at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco, according to an announcement by Chairman Compton I. White of Idaho in testimony before the house currency committee.

The committee recently took favorable action on two commemorative coins, one to honor the memory of Booker T. Washington, first of the Negro leaders in America and the other to mark the 100th anniversary of the entrance in the union of the state of Iowa.

Facts about coins were developed in testimony from Leland Howard, assistant director of the mint, before the committee.

It was revealed that the first commemorative half dollar ever made in the United States was one marking the Columbian Exposition in 1892. Numismatists eagerly seized on the Columbian coin and demand for them has increased ever since.

The mint is not only busy engaged in coining our own American money, but a very lucrative business is carried on minting money for sister nations throughout the world.

Cuba is one of the mint's best customers, with all of the island's coins being made in America and most of them at the Philadelphia mint. In 1945, in addition to replacement coins for the U. S. 1,400,000,000 coins were made for other countries.

In the manufacture of the Booker T. Washington coins, the silver will cost $843,912; the copper alloy $1,695 and the actual manufacturing at a rate of $7 per 1000 coins, comes to $35,000, which adds up to $850,905 to make coins worth $2,500,000. The profit or "seigniorage" comes to $1,619,384.

Coinage of the 35 per cent silver war nickels has stopped. The new coins contain 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel.

Rotary Members Tell Of Their Past

Monday Is Confession Day As Members Are Called Upon For Their Life History

Rotary Club members had a sort of confession day in connection with their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, with County Agent L. C. Dayton, of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association in charge of the program.

Nine members were called upon to give a brief resume of their life from the date of their birth until the present, and some surprising facts were uncovered, things that the membership little suspected, particularly in the case of some who were not native born sons.

Those who answered roll call, in this unique program, were: DeLace Cole, Ole Olson, John Dineolo, Don Trout, Homer Clouse, Jack Houston, Francis E. Sowersby, William J. Caldwell and Jacob F. Rentz.

OPPOSE MILITARY ON ATOMIC BOARD

BERKELEY, Calif., July 23.—(INS)—The Northern California Association of Scientists issued a statement today opposing a House of Representatives bill which provides for one or two military members of a five-member atomic energy commission.

One-Room Schools Passing Slowly

Lawrence County Still Has 24 One-Room Buildings, With Number Gradually Decreasing

While the days of the one-room school are considered past, it is surprising how many there are remaining in Lawrence County. Inquiring of County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling, the fact was brought out that there are still 24 one-room schools in Lawrence County.

However, the number is being decreased each year and it is hoped to eliminate a few more this year, and to take care of the pupils of these buildings in the larger consolidated buildings.

Wilmington township still has six one-room school, and Shippory Road and Union township have several, with one or two being scattered around in other sections.

In 1942-43, there were 39 one-room structures, and about a half dozen two-room buildings, so it will be seen that the number is gradually dwindling, and in a few more years all pupils will be attending consolidated schools and being transported to and from school by bus.

Una Merkel To Resume Film Work

HOLLYWOOD, July 23.—(INS)—Comedienne Una Merkel today was preparing to resume her screen career after a three-year layoff.

She is scheduled to begin work shortly in the Eagle-Lion production "It's A Joke Son" with Kenny (Senator Claghorn) Delmar.

The actress suffered a nervous breakdown after narrowly escaping death 16 months ago in a gas-filled New York apartment in which her mother, Mrs. Bessie Merkel, committed suicide.

Early this year Miss Merkel joined her father, Arno Merkel, aboard a three-masted schooner operating between Wilmington, N. C. and West Indies ports.

She recounted: "I worked hard at everything from deck hand to dishwasher. The hard work was good for me. I regained my strength, health and confidence."

George Jones Tells Of Tarpon Fishing

George P. Jones, of Sarasota, Fla., was talking here Saturday with friends, of one of the sports in his town. It is that of tarpon fishing.

To the person landing the largest tarpon, taking into consideration the age of person, and the form of tackle used for catching the fish, the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce will present a prize.

Already, Jerry Collins has landed a 141½-pound tarpon, a fifteen year old youth captured one weighing 105-pounds, and a girl weighing ninety-three pounds recently brought in under her own steam, a 94-pounds tarpon. The latter was in a boat with her father, Mr. Jones says she held on bravely while the fish plunged and fought to gain its liberty; reluctantly the father restrained himself from going to her aid, when her tears came, knowing that would have spoiled her chance for the prize.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Jones, former resident of this city, have resided for a number of years in Florida, formerly in St. Cloud, now in Sarasota. They are visiting with relatives and friends here. Mr. Jones is a retired railroad engineer, over eighty years of age, and in good health.

Motor Fatalities Above '45 Figures

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—The Revenue department today reported that 723 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents during the first five months of 1946 compared with 400 victims in a similar period last year.

During a corresponding period in 1941, the last so-called normal year which preceded gasoline rationing and restricted travel, 770 persons lost their lives in highway accidents.

The bureau pointed out that 432 victims last year were injured fatally in accidents on rural highways while the others were killed in urban areas.

SERBS TO MOURN GEN. MIKHAILOVITCH ONE DAY EACH YEAR

NEW YORK, July 23.—(INS)—Serbians in the United States are planning to observe a day of mourning annually in memory of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch.

The very Rev. Doushan J. Shoukretovich, dean of the Serbian Orthodox Cathedral of St. Sava, said the perpetual day of mourning will be set each year for the Sunday nearest the date of the Chetnik leader's execution at Belgrade.

Every Serbian Orthodox church in the U. S. and Canada held special funeral services for Mikhailovitch Sunday at the request of the Rev. Dionisive of Libertyville, Ill., primate of the western see.
